Gas works make traffic problems 'unavoidable'

New club for young people in Bridport

ORGANISER Margaret Preuss-Higham and Steve Bartlett are pictured with children attending the first meeting of a new monthly club for seven to 12year-olds at Bridport St Mary's Church Hall last week. The @7 club has been launched to replace the gap left by the closure of Bridport House Club earlier this year. Activities will include craft, music, games, cooking, films, bingo and more.

For more information contact Margaret on 01308 424234. The next club night will be at 7pm on Wednesday, October 5th at St Mary's Church Hall.

TRAFFIC problems are set to worsen, and will last until Easter next year, as crucial works begin to upgrade the town's gas sup-

Scaffolding at the town hall will be removed at the end of this month but a £400,000 project to replace existing metal gas mains with polyethylene pipe will see road closures and diversions in place until April 2012.

Southern Gas Networks (SGN), who will be carrying out the work, contacted Bridport residents last month to inform them of the plans.

The first phase of the work in South Street has already begun with workmen using two-way traffic signals and parking restrictions to control traffic.

Phase one will be completed on Friday, December 2nd, when work will stop for the Christmas period, but will resume on Monday, January 9th.

In January work will begin at the top of South Street with a one way road closure in place initially but changing to a full road closure as work progresses.

The full road closure will be maintained as phase three of the works begins in East Street, with the project planned to finish at Barrack Street in Easter 2012.

Leader of the town council, Councillor Martin Ray, said that he believes the town's traffic problems will get worse but admits that the work was unavoidable.

"It's an unfortunate reality but we have got to put up with it," he said. "There is nothing the town, district or county council can do about it. they have a statutory right to dig up holes if they think there is a risk of a gas leak, of course they do and they are doing it properly by offering businesses a compensation package if they are affected.

"The last thing we want is large yardage of roads blowing up. It's going to be a pain in the neck but we will do the best we can to get round it.

"It's going to be chaos but we will do our best to minimise it, it's not the end of the world.

"By Easter we will have everything done and we can look forward to a busy summer, the Olympics and the Spirit of Bridport Festival.

Town Councillor Karl Wallace agreed that works were unavoidable but had concerns over the timing. "It is essential works but it's a shame that it couldn't have been carried out at the same time as the town hall development,' he said.

"It's going to be carrying on after the town hall work and I do worry about the lack of co-ordination between services. It is inconvenient and traffic problems are going to get a lot worse before they get better. There is very little we can do about it, we just have to put up with it but I really do hope they have communicated with other utility services."

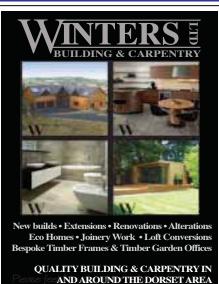

Bridport Town Surveyor Daryl Chambers said the work was crucial. "There is not a lot we can do about it. These are essential works, the gas main is leaking, they have been drilling it to let it breathe for over a year now so these are crucial works," he added. "It will cause some disruption of course but it has to be done."

In a letter to Bridport residents, Construction Manager for SGN, Colin Horne, said: "I would like to apologise for any inconvenience that may be caused by our work. We understand that people can get frustrated by road works; however, the new plastic pipe has a minimum lifespan of 80 years. This means that when the work is complete, people will continue to enjoy the benefits of a safe and reliable gas supply for years

ZUMBA loving dairy farmer Nicola Harris-Jarvis has been a Health and Exercise Manager at the Bridport Leisure Centre for two years.

After not fulfilling her childhood dream of becoming a dancer Nicola decided the next best thing would be to work in the fitness industry, where she still gets to enjoy her passion by leading classes such as Zumba and aerobics.

Outside of work, Nicola and her husband John run a dairy herd at their Long Bredy home, Rowden Farm.

Nicola and John live on the farm with their two children, 18-year-old Sabrina, who is studying at Kingston Maurwood College and 12-year-old Lewis, who is at the Sir John Colfox School.

WHAT first got you interested in health and fitness?

As a child I was a gymnast and a dancer and I was always active. I wanted to be a dancer mainly but that is difficult to get into so when I left school, I started off on a YTS scheme, which was a bit like an apprenticeship scheme. I started at Honiton Sports Centre and I got qualifications like my gynmnastics coaching award there. Because of my dancing background I wanted to do a bit of that as well so I then became an aerobics instructor which is the next best thing I suppose.

■ WHAT are your favourite classes to run at the leisure centre?

Zumba is brilliant. It's a dance class but it's fitness as well and it's great fun. I like teaching aerobics as well and working in the gym. I really enjoy it when someone comes into the gym and they want an exercise program to get fit or lose weight, I enjoy helping them because I'm giving them the knowledge I have and helping them to reach their goals.

HOW do you think we should tackle the rising

I think its down to people not being aware of the health issues that surround being overweight, people need to be educated. Even though more people are now becoming active there are people that see it as too much like hard work. For the younger generation there are a lot of distractions now, like computer games, which stop kids from getting out and doing more. I think the message is slowly getting out but there is still a long way to go.

ARE the gym and exercise classes suitable for all fitness levels?

They are open to everyone, we get all sorts of ages and abilities. Its not just for people who are really fit already, we get the older and the younger generations, it's a mixed group of people.

■ WHAT would be your three top tips for staying in shape?

Keep active as much as you can, get out and walk about. Come to the gym and see how it is. It's not how you think, i'ts completely different, everyone's really friendly and there to help you achieve your goals and just keep active really, even if it's just walking down the street or riding your bike to work, anything is better than nothing, just do a little bit each day.

■ THE nights are getting longer now, is it harder to keep fit in the winter?

The dark nights can make it harder. Once you get home from work or college it's easy to sit down and stay there, but there are so many activities here at the leisure centre, there is something for everybody. The gym might not be for you, but you might like to go swimming. There are lots of clubs and fitness classes as well, there's something for everyone.

■ HOW did you become a dairy farmer?

My husband John has always worked on farms since he was at school, his father was a herdsman and he used to help him. Then ten years ago we decided we wanted to do it for ourselves. We were living in Honiton at the time and so we sold our house, bought cows and started our business down in Devon, where we grew our herd and then moved up to Dorset.

HOW is the herd doing now?

We've just sold our cows now because we are going to have a break to visit John's brother who is a dairy farmer in New Zealand. We are going to go over there for seven weeks and see how he does it and I'm going to go over there and see how their fitness industry differs and see if I can bring anything back.

WHAT was the last film you watched, book you read and CD you listened to?

The last film I watched was the final Harry Potter, we've followed the films all the way through. I don't really read books, mainly fitness magazines and farming magazines. The last CD I listened to would have been one of my Zumba CDs, I'm always listening to my Zumba music to get inspiration for my classes.

Funding boost saves 'Aspire' project

A FUNDING boost of £9,258 has helped save a leading Bridport skills training project that was just weeks from closure.

The "Aspire" project, run by Bridport Local Area Skills Training (BLAST), has supported more than 40 young people into work in its 18-month existence.

Despite this, in July, BLAST members raised concerns that the Aspire project could fold within two months if further funding wasn't found.

Since then Dorset County Council's Adult Learning has given a commission of £9,258 to the project which will allow work to continue with those not in education, employment or training (NEETS) specifically targeting the those 19-yearsold and over.

"Adult Learning has been a staunch supporter of BLAST since its inception over three years ago," said BLAST Chairman, Arthur Woodgate. "This commission, the first BLAST has sought and achieved, is a recognition of the success of the Aspire Project.

"Aspire targets the most disadvantaged in our community, and has done so for over eighteen months. During this time more than 40 young people aged between 16 and 23 have been supported into education, training and employment."

Mr Woodgate pointed out that the threat to this work came at the same time as successful funding bids, worth hundreds of thousand of pounds, were being put towards the establishment of two further skills training centres in the area within

"We have been able to achieve much through our very positive relationships with training providers within the West Dorset Learning Partnership, which we were instrumental in establishing," said Mr Woodgate.

"We are very pleased to say that is through these partnerships that the work of Charlotte Storey, the excellent Co-ordinator of the Aspire Project, is able to be maintained and to expand."

Also fully aware of this success, BLAST partners and national training providers Nacro have provided funding to enable work with the 16 to 18-year-old age group to continue.

'This is very welcome," said Mr Woodgate, "but whereas the Adult Learning funding is for a full academic year, Nacro have been able to commit to a far shorter period. "We are therefore seeking further funding to allow this essential work to develop further. We are looking at a national, and therefore a local situation where the number of young NEETS is increasing dramatically. We don't have all the answers - nobody has all the answers - but I think we've been able to prove that we can help some young people find some very positive answers for

New waste management facility approved at Broomhills

PLANS to build a new waste management facility at Broomhills have been given the green light by Dorset County Council.

Councillors considered the findings of a report assessing Broomhills' suitability for a household recycling centre and waste transfer station on Wednesday of last week.

The cabinet unanimously supported the report and agreed the Dorset Waste Partnership should now undertake detailed design work to progress with a planning application for Broomhills.

Actual development costs will be fully assessed as part of this work but preliminary estimates indicate it could be around £8million.

Supporting the Highways Agency's and the county council's highways officers' preferred junction arrangement, it was also agreed that traffic signals should be installed to provide access to the site and negotiations with the landowner to purchase an option on the land will also be concluded.

Despite a decision on the site finally being made the facility is not planned to be operational until summer 2014, with planning consent at the current Household Recycling Centre (HRC) set to run out in March 2013.

If the planning consent at the HRC cannot be extended for a seventh time then residents could be left without a waste site for over a year.

Bridport Town Councillor Karl Wallace believes, with this in mind, pressure is being put on the public to accept the decision as final.

"I appreciate it needs to go somewhere but I truly believe the DCC have made an error here," he said.

"The trouble is if we push and say no to this site then we're running out of time to find somewhere else.

"A shotgun is being held to Bridport's head, we either accept this or face going to Crewkerne or Weymouth with our waste.

Dorset County Council's Cabinet member for the environment Robert Gould said the time had come to move forward with the project. "This is a long running and complex issue but the time has come to move forward," he said. "It is not just about saving money but also about the environmental benefits - improving our recycling rate and significantly reducing the number of heavy vehicles movements in the west.

"Broomhills is not perfect but we've assessed all potential sites, and the DWP is unanimously agreed it is the most suitable site and the best way forward, so we need to press ahead with a planning application.

"I understand the concerns some residents have about the impact on traffic, but the evidence shows we can manage this by providing a signalised junction. A waste transfer station will not generate much additional traffic, as many of them are already taking Dorset Waste Partnership Director Steve Burdis added: "A new waste management centre in Bridport is essential for the future development of waste services in the west of the county. Not only for the long term provision of a household recycling centre in the area but also because taking waste to Wareham in refuse collection vehicles is simply not sustainable or environmental best practice. We are committed to helping deliver a new site and are confident Broomhills is the right site to progress.

"I appreciate that residents feel strongly about where the facility should go and as a result pubic information days about the proposed scheme will be held before a planning application is submitted. People will also be able to formally comment during the planning application process.

The provisional timetable of work to progress with a waste management facility is as follows:

Exciting times for free schools

C ILLY season was turned on its head this year with politicians and press alike having plenty of hard hitting events to contemplate over the summer.

The riots brought MPs scuttling back to Westminster in the middle of August, and the aftermath - together with Libya and the state of the world economy - were at the forefront of many MPs minds as they returned to Parliament after recess.

However, alongside the return to the House of Commons, there was another return to normality - made by our nation's school children and teachers.

Like teachers, MPs (and in particular ministers) do a lot more during the summer than most people imagine. But, like school children, they return to the start of term in a spirit of anticipation.

For one set of children, in particular, there will have been the excitement of taking their first step into one of the 24 brand new free schools now dotted around our nation.

Free schools are a key part of the current education reforms which seek to raise educational standards in places that are less well endowed with good schools than West Dorset. They are state funded and can be set up by a range of different groups, from parents to char-

by Oliver Letwin MP

Rather than being run by councils or politicians, free schools are run by the very teachers that work in them. They have a considerable amount of freedom, such as how they spend the school's money and the curriculum, enabling them to create a learning environment which suits the needs of their local community.

The aim is to give parents from all backgrounds a choice over the type of school they send their children to. Being non-selective and with half of the 24 new schools in deprived areas, children from all backgrounds are able to access what free schools offer.

Although there are precedents both in Scandinavia and in America, this is a bold new venture for

It has certainly caused a lot of discussion as Westminster starts up again, and I have no doubt it will continue to be discussed vigorously at the forthcoming party conferences.

But, whatever the interest and anticipation in political circles, the start of a new term in a new school of a new kind must be much more exciting for the pupils, parents and teachers involved in the free schools themselves.

Roof blo high win

A WEST Bay pensioner has said it was lucky no one was injured after stormy weather ripped the roof off his conservatory.

Bernie Andrews said that strong winds early last week were the worst he had experienced in 12 years at West Bay and is warning other residents to be aware of the dangers high winds can pose.

Mr Andrews said: "I have lived here for 12 years and this is the first time anything like this has happened. We get strong winds up here because we are rather high but never as strong as it was on Monday night, Tuesday morning.

"I first heard the noise at about 7:40am on Tuesday morning. I heard this ripping noise that was so loud it woke me up, I looked out the window and I could see daylight out of the top of my conservatory.

my conservatory.

"I knew either the conservatory or the roof had gone because it was one hell of a noise. I jumped out of bed and went to see what I could do. It was raining and things were getting wet inside the conservatory so I had to get everything out quickly.

WIND WARNING - Bernie Andrews is said it was lucky no-one was hurt after his conservatory roof was ripped from its fittings and blown 150yards across the street

by Tom Glover

The wind was blowing it about all over the place."

Later in the day when looking for parts from his conservatory, Mr Andrews discover that part of the roof had been blown 150 yards over his roof, across the street and into the back garden of a nearby property

Mr Andrews also discovered a metal bar, which had been bent out of shape, across the road in the front garden of another property.

"These bits have gone over my roof, across the road, over his roof and into his back garden. You are probably looking at 150 yards that the wind has taken all these pieces, its unbelievable," said Mr Andrews

"The way its bent that metal, I can't believe it. It's very lucky that it never hit anyone, if that piece of metal had hit anybody it could have done some serious damage and if it hit somebody's window it would have smashed it in.

"I just want to let people know that winds in this part of the world can be that strong and to keep an eye on your outbuildings."

Where else would you find a hat that fits?

THE USA is the home of the Stetson hat and in particular a style called Boss of the Plains which was designed in 1865 and worn by John Wayne in the 1953 film Hondo.

It would not seem unnatural therefore that the US would be the best place to find one to use on a sculpture of the Mike Wade who lives and works in Bridport had been commissioned with making the sculpture but was stumped when his search in the USA for a replica hat drew a blank after the only possible supplier quoted him 20 weeks delivery, which was not acceptable to his client.

In desperation Mike, an internationally known wax sculptor whose works include Del Boy, George Clooney and President Obama, turned to local hatter Roger Snook for help.

Roger who had supplied the headgear for Mike's other sculptures and can claim a number of famous celebrities among his customers going back over a number of decades, was up for the challenge.

A determined man, he checked out his stockroom and in a corner dusted off an old box from 1968 to reveal the exact thing inside. Problem solved.

YOUNG musicians from the B Sharp music project staged a live performance at Bridport Arts Centre after creating a collection of songs from scratch in just four days.

Å group of young performers, aged 12 to 18-years-old, played guitars, drums, trumpets, saxophones, keyboards and more to create the new songs, guided by B-Sharp trainees and apprentices, who themselves are all under the age of 26.

The sessions had professional support from music leader Pete Wild and Sammy Hurden who joined the ensemble for sessions on singing and song writing.

The project, the third summer project in association with Bridport Arts Centre, was supported by the Rex Trevett Appeal Fund.

The fund was setup by Rex's widow Margaret and their daughter Julie Young, following Rex's death in 2005.

After visiting the project, Margaret said: "It was good to see so many youngsters enjoying their music making with enthusiastic leaders.

"I think it sounds great, it really sounds good I'm impressed. Rex would have loved it, he used to run a lot of

by Tom Glover

workshops at the school and it sounds quite a lot like it. It has a lovely feel about it."

Fran Williams, B Sharp project manager, added: "Thanks to Bridport Arts Centre and the Trevett family for making this possible, Rex I'm sure would have enjoyed these sessions and even joined us in a jam.

"We love working at Bridport Arts Centre. What's especially great is that many of the same young people come back each year and you can see them developing in confidence as great musicians, it's always a pleasure to watch these sessions, to see everybody working together and hearing the music as it develops is such a creative thing.

"The trainees and leaders provide such an easy going environment that makes everybody feels comfortable enough to experiment and jam together regardless of how experienced or who they are "

LET THEM EAT CAKE - Amanda and Emily Hay-

A TEA party fundraising event at the West Bay Salt House raised £213.50 for Charcot Marie Tooth UK at the weekend.

CMT sufferer Emily Haylock organised the event after getting the fundraising bug earlier this year when she completed a canoe and cycle ride in the Lake District

As well as tucking into homemade cakes, guests were kept entertained with live music from Emily's sister Alice on the saxaphone and guizzes.

The quiz winners were Lauren Holder from Sanford, who won a bottle of champagne donated by Bothen Hill Produce and Laura Challis of Bridport who won a hamper.

The money raised will go to CMT UK to fund further research into the condition.

Hats under the hammer

■ GOING, GOING, GONE! Auctioneer Jim Rowe sells another hat as Roger Snook looks on

A COLLECTION of unwanted hats raised more than £500 for the Hammer Out charity when they went under the hammer at an auction last week as part of the Bridport Hat Festival activities.

Organiser Roger Snook called for the public to donate hats that they no longer wore as a means of raising money for the charity as well as giving people the chance to select a titfer that they might like to wear when attending this weekend's festivities.

The West Dorset Club in South Street was packed as local auctioneer Jim Rowe teased those present to part with more than £500 in exchange for around 100 hats.

Hammer Out was started in 2002 to raise awareness of brain tumours and the needs of those affected by them, as well as raising money for brain and cancer related charities.

£800 bounty for pantomime players

by Stuart Broom

ROBINSON Crusoe's coffers were swelled by almost £800 when Bridport Pantomime Players held their summer fete on the Mound outside the Old Salthouse at West Bay.

The weather cleared in time to allow the fete to take place outside where visitors had the chance to pin the eye patch on the pirate or have their face painted. A tombola, raffle and a wonderful array of homemade cakes were also available.

The money raised will be put towards the cost of their production of Robinson Crusoe which takes place at the Electric Palace in the first week of February.

Rehearsals have already started and the cast are looking forward to helping Robinson find the buried treasure.

Life's a beach at the Co-op

■ A TROPICAL themed beach party at the Bridport Co-operative store has raised £263 for the Mencap charity. To raise money for the Co-op's charity of the year, staff all came to work dressed in summer attire, complete with novelty sunglasses, buckets and spades and inflatable palm trees.

Store manager Rob Garland said: "The fundraising event, to mark the halfway point with our charity of the year, Mencap, was a great success and a lot of fun too.

"We would like to thank our customers for their generosity in helping us to raise money for such a worthwhile cause, and I'd like to commend staff for getting behind the beach party event and helping to make it a great day, all in the name of charity."

The musical stop will be reflective of 'Singing for the Brain', a service provided by Alzheimer's Society which uses singing to bring people together in a friendly and stimulating social environment, as well as being of benefit to those affected by de-

Bridport pole dancers pass with flying colours

STUDENTS from Bridport's Poleatis, pole dancing fitness, class have just passed their first grading with flying colours.

A group of 11 women from the Bridport group had to learn the syllabus from their chosen Advancement and Accreditation Program level, perform five moves from that level and put five moves into a sequence. Each student also had to perform a full warm up and cool down to show that they understood the need to prepare the muscles and joints for exercise and to cool down properly.

Completing their level one grades were Louise Ward, Diana Takezoe and Emily Pye, completing level two were Lindsay Harding, Sarah Campbell and Becky Laing, while Jo Smith completed her level three grade.

Polelatis proprietor and principal instructor Ally O'Reilly, also achieved her Level Two tutor status.

She said: "These were the first gradings for all my students who all passed their prospective levels.

"Some, who only come once a week, remembered all their moves and routines amazingly. The confidence that was shown in their routines was so fun to watch as some of my ladies who come to class have grown in themselves and become so much more out going and less nervous. They are all looking forward to progressing to the next level when we do our grading again in January."

The group's next grading will be in January. To find out more about the poleatis classes visit www. poleatis.com or contact Ally directly on 07775 532101 or allycat79@hotmail.co.uk

themselves to be some of the best in the west by claiming

The Taste of the West Awards presented six Bridport businesses with a combined total of 39 awards for their

Some of the top award winners were Denhay Farms who claimed eight gold and one silver award and Forest Products who had two gold and four bronze awards to add to their 13 silver prizes.

The annual awards celebrate "the very best of everything scrumptious and delicious from West Country producers," and the Taste of the West logo has become a benchmark for independently proven fine food and drink.

Following their success Amanda Streatfeild from Denhay Farms said: "We are delighted to have won a full house at this year's Taste of the West Awards. Having set up the Awards nearly twenty years ago, we are thrilled to see how they have continued to highlight excellence in the region, giving confidence to local retailers and caterers that buying local is the best thing to do."

by Tom Glover

Another Bridport winners was Jessica's Farmhouse Cakes, which began life in the kitchen of Jessica and Richard Bowditch ten years ago. The couple now run the business from North Mills Trading Estate with a team of bakers. The cake company received two silver and one bronze award.

Richard Bowditch said: "We always go for the quality high end market and so this is a way of showing that we are still producing good quality products and coming up with new things.

Collins, for her part in the awards. "Daisy revamped our brownies and that's what won the award and she also had a big hand in the sunshine bar as well, which got a silver award, so we have to give her a lot of credit.

A familiar face among the winners was R.J. Balson and Sons Butchers who picked up four silver awards and gold awards for both their smoked and unsmoked bacon.

Richard Balson said: "We are very pleased, it's a good achievement and its nice to be rewarded for your hardwork. It proves we're up there with the best of the bacon and sausage makers. As we've been in business since 1535, we know a bit about making sausages. It's also the first time the smoked and unsmoked bacon got gold so that was good to see."

The other Bridport winners were Bridport Gourmet Pies, who won bronze for their Steak and Jimmy Riddle of the West award, claiming silver for their Dorset Apple Chutney

Taste of the West Chief Executive John Sheaves said he was "absolutely delighted" with this year's results, he added: "We have definitely seen an uplift in the product quality this year. The entries have proved once again, that West Country producers lead the way in local sourcing and have raised the standard and sheer professionalism in getting their products to market. It's a tough economic climate out there, so raising the bar is key to maintaining market share. My congratulations go to all the Gold, Silver and Bronze winners."

Details of the Gold, Silver and Bronze product awards can be found on the Taste of the West Awards website visit www.tasteofthewest.co.uk.

Reduce your electricity bill and MAKE MONEY with the solar power people!

- ✓ Save up to 40% on your energy bills
- ✓ Lower carbon emissions
- Add value to your home

DORSET'S own award winning Ace Energy are the leading suppliers of solar power. Recently they have installed solar at a number of homes within Dorset. With the average electricity bill being around £600 yearly, installing solar on your roof can reduce that bill by up to 50% and provide home owners and landlords with a healthy profit. This is due to the Feed-In Tariff scheme which pays premium rates for power generated from solar power - Dorset households on the scheme are now earning over £850 every year. The tax free, inflation-proof payouts are designed to protect the UK from ever-rising energy prices and help lower carbon emissions. You may have noticed an increase in the amount of roofs proudly showing off their solar panels recently and according to Alan Seviour, Ace Energy's MD, solar has never been more popular.

Cheeses, fine Deli & Gift Store

Large range of West Country and International cheeses, fine foods, chocolates, and more....

Open Mon - Sat 9am - 5pm

Wolfe and Sharon Boswell have a lot to smile about as their business Jaxson's Deli celebrates its second birthday this week, they have also recently been awarded a ' Highly Commended' certificate in the Deli of the year 2011, a National Competition that is run by

Jaxson's Deli can be found in West Street, Bridport and they pride themselves on friendly, helpful service with a smile. With many local customers who come back time and time again it is not surprising that this Deli has been awarded a Highly Commended accolade. The store is full of lots of locally supplied meats, cheeses, teas and biscuits as well as gifts. In May 2010 Jackie and Sharon introduced a few tables to the premises to serve breakfasts, lunches, snacks, homemade cakes plus hot and cold drinks, which can be enjoyed inside or taken away. The majority of what you find on the menu is also sold in the deli, and regular customers can benefit from a loyalty scheme they

Looking at the deli side there is a large stock of local cheeses, and Jaxson's like to focus on West Country cheeses, including Denhay Cheddar, Dorset Red and Woolsely Goat to name a few, they also have a good selection of goat and sheep cheese which their customers have requested as very few outlets stock

Every week Jaxson's have a "Cheese of the week" which introduces new cheeses and promotes cheeses that the deli already sells. Customers can come in and ask for a cheese which might not be sold and Jackie and Sharon will get this in and trial it. If it goes well they will then add it to their range. Alongside this there is always a 'Guest Cheddar' to ensure their customers enjoy sampling various cheddars from around the UK. You can also try before you buy with the cheeses and on Fridays and Saturdays they offer free Cakes and quiches are all homemade and can be purchased either whole or by the slice, and a made to order service is also available, which is ideal if you are holding a party.

There is no restriction on the amount you have to buy, you can have just one slice of ham to twenty!, plus whatever sized piece of cheese you desire.

The shelves are filled with different teas, jams, honeys and chutneys plus a growing selection of sugar free and gluten free produce. These goodies can also be purchased online at www.jaxsonsgifts.com. A lovely present or picnic idea are the hampers that Jaxson's sell both in store and online. If you pop in store to purchase one of these you can have your hamper made to order.

Every month Jaxson's like to introduce something new, which cannot always be found in larger stores, such as their quirky gift ideas. They also have a large selection of jams and honey, which include organic ranges, which also make lovely gift ideas. There will be more gift ideas arriving from now onwards for Christmas.

Jaxson's Deli's food is all freshly prepared to order with breakfast and light lunch options and a range of sandwiches served with a handful of Burts crisps, and salad garnish to hearty ploughman's which are all served with fresh crusty bread, crispy salad garnish, coleslaw, a crunchy pickled onion plus a choice of chutney. There is something to seed all appetites. On offer every week is a special "Sandwich of the week!" and there is a selection of sandwich fillings

If it is just an afternoon home made treat you fancy with a hot or cold beverage then there is something

Open 6 days a week from 9am to 5pm, closed Sundays, why not pop in and enjoy a bite to eat or treat yourself and the family to some of the delicious local produce they have to offer.

Perrott Hill

s we step forward into a new academic year, we are thrilled to report that Perrott Hill is once again ringing to the sound of happy children who are simply delighted to be back school. It is also extremely gratifying to see that our 49 new pupils have settled so quickly and are wholeheartedly enjoying everything that Perrott Hill has to offer.

Against a background of traditional values, we have the time and space to ensure that every child achieves their very best. Class sizes are small and all children are given the individual attention necessary to ensure that they flourish. Be it in the classroom, on the sports fields (children play games five days a week), in the music school, the art department or during the vast array of activities on offer, we work to ensure that each individual reaches their full potential. We also invest time in teaching manners and the common courtesy which are so often overlooked in the rush of modern-day life.

We continue to invest in new facilities and the last 12 months have seen the opening of the Hoskyns Library, the completion of the 250 seat theatre and on-going improvements to all academic accommodation. The major project, however, has been the installation of an all-weather surface and we are now only days away from the completion of the North Lawns Project; a state-of-the-art, sand-dressed all-weather surface; hockey sessions and tennis lessons will never be the same!

To add to an already hectic summer term, we received a visit from OFSTED who inspected our boarding provision and I am pleased to report that Perrott Hill was judged to be "outstanding" in its organisation, in helping children to make a positive contribution and in helping children to achieve and enjoy what they do.

Please contact Susan Cleary on 0146072051 or e-mail her on admissions@perrotthill.com if you would like further information or would like to attend the Perrott Hill Open Mornings on Friday 7th and Saturday 8th October 2011. Information on our Scholarship Day, which will take place on Friday 3rd February 2012, is also available.

Lyme Regis Boat Building Academy

Learn Woodworking at the Boat Building Academy

The Boat Building Academy's boat building training is world famous. They have now introduced a range of woodworking courses for people who want to learn woodworking skills without the boats.

Courses range from 5 days to 8 weeks and are based on the Academy's tried and tested boat building training philosophy – they are intensive, highly practical and produce an 'end product'.

Everyone starts by being taught how to properly sharpen and use chisels and planes and move on to learn how to mark out and cut proper joints. Students on the 8 week course not only take a City & Guilds certificate but also design and make a piece of furniture for themselves to take away.

All levels of experience are welcome and students go on from the longer course to a wide range of jobs, from designing and making chairs to building timber frame houses to producing driftwood furniture.

Whether you want to try woodworking and see if it's for you, take a hobby to a different level, start a new career or just spend time on the beach learning a new skill ask the Boat Building Academy which course will best suit you.

Let's Revolutionise Britain's Favourite Take - Away

BENNETT'S ON The Waterfront have been working alongside Hugh Fearnley-Whittingstall to get more people eating Mackerel.

The aim is to get mackerel on the menu in Fish and Chip shops across the UK. By offering a more sustainable alternative to the habitual favourite Cod and Chips by eating mackerel you will be helping to save our fish.

Why Mackerel?

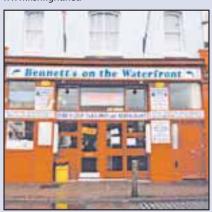

Half of all fish caught in the North Sea are thrown back overboard dead.

Thousands of tonnes of mackerel are landed in British ports like Peterhead, every year. What's even better to know is that mackerel is fished in a controlled and sustainable way.

The huge quantities of these shoaling, fast growing, pelagic fish available, means that the cost to the consumer is considerably less than that of bigger predatory species such as cod. Plus, it's tasty, cheap and has great health benefits (rich in Omega 3s), a perfect choice really!

Bennett's have already sold over 7000 Mackerel baps since the programme was aired in January so why not pop along and try one for yourself.

Old pension plans gathering dust Handpicked beautiful he Pensions world can seem confusing and full of Jargon at the best of times, but the sad fact is that most of us do not have sufficient monies put away for retirement and indeed, those of us who do save, guite often the pots are not doing anything more than gathering dust like the statements in the cupboard. With increasing pressure on company pensions the picture potentially looks bleak for the pensioners of tomorrow.

At Pennywise we have a different approach, it's about the long haul, reviewing your pension plans every year to see how they are doing and most importantly make sure the money is in the right place to benefit from some growth. Too often pension plans are set up and then never looked at again. The world is an ever changing place and pensions are no different in that respect. What is a good investment today will not necessarily be what was best 10 years ago, likewise in 10 years time the picture may be very different.

It does not cost to have an Independent Pension review and with some minor changes there can be a marked difference in the value of your pension pot at retirement. The reality is that the more money in vour Pension at retirement, the better your choices and the more income you will be able to purchase.

So call us today for a Professional Approach to Retirement Planning on 01305 268942.

Dream Doors Dorset is a Franchise of a National Company. It is owned and run by Andy & Shelley Stewart as a family business with reliable National branding & backing. Their expert staff will help plan your work, help you decide what materials to choose and explain what will happen in your kitchen.

Andy and Shelley Stewart, last year made it to the final three in the South West and South Wales regional heats for Franchisee of the Year Awards, Says Andy: "We're delighted to have made it this far. We know there are over 37,000 franchisees in the UK, so to be considered among the best is a real honour."

By replacing the doors, drawers, and if chosen new worktops, appliances and accessories such as plinths, cornice and pelmet a completely new kitchen can be achieved.

A kitchen facelift can save you up to 50% compared to a new kitchen and of course it's more environmentally friendly. But how does this work? A door makedver saves what is not broken such as the main structure of the kitchen including the carcasses and simply replaces the visible elements you want to change. In addition Dream Doors can also assist with minor re-designs and additional carcasses through to new kitchens. So flexibility and choice is the name of their game.

Why not transform your old or dated kitchen into something fresh and attractive. You can pick a colour, any colour, a style, any style and as the doors and carcasses are made to measure non-standard sizes are not a problem.

So whether you are looking for a contemporary, traditional, or a country kitchen it can all be carried out in only a couple of days and without the usual hassle, disruption and upheaval.

Why not visit the showroom to see what's possible and view the extensive range of styles and finishes, worktop choices and the range of NEFF appliances and Franke sink and taps.

Devlin tells his tales from the crypt

DEVLIN, the acclaimed Dagenham-based MC, is coming to the Electric Palace this September, complete with full live band, ahead of a new album release on Universal early next year.

Leaving behind the material ramblings of an archetypal MC, listening to Devlin, you're more likely to hear tales of conspiracy theories, politics and Pavarotti. A lover of Bob Marley, The Supremes and Bruce Springsteen, Devlin isn't your average grime artist. The enigmatic, Dagenham born Devlin set the bar for a new generation of Grime music in 2006 with his underground classic, 'Tales from the Crypt'. In March 2010 Devlin was signed to Island/Universal. His official debut album 'Bud, Sweat & Beers' was released to widespread critical acclaim in Nov 2010. He visits the South-West for the first time with a full live band this September.

Devlin will be appearing at the Electric Palace on Thursday, September 22nd. Doors open at 7.30pm and tickets are available from Bridport Tourist Information on 01308 424901. Please note that there is an age restriction of 14yrs.

The Shed Photography online artist's community launches

THE Shed Photography is the realisation of a long time dream of Chelsea Davine, who is the artist and creative force behind this exciting new project.

The Shed Photography is pleased to be launching the first Shed event to coincide with Lyme Regis ArtsFest; there will be a Shed group show at The Shelters, Lyme Regis from September 17 to 25th, and will feature 2D work and photography by Shed Creatives.

Chelsea dreamed of a place where her friends, many of whom are artists and photographers, could come together, be built into by people with like minds, and have a resource for events and information. It would also be a platform for them to offer their creations to a larger, international audience.

Artists often work in a solitary environment and are very much on their own when it comes to putting their work out into the world. It can be very discouraging and many artists remain disconnected from supportive environments. The idea of the Shed is not just a place for artists to sell their work, but to be nurtured and to be part of a community. In conjunction with the website, the Shed members will hold group shows and participate in various art events as a "family of artists".

For an annual fee of £60, artists/photographers can feature up to twelve pieces of work to be sold on the website. They will also be included in group shows and events as well as benefit from all of the marketing and advertising campaigns of the Shed. The Shed has a full-time marketing director who will be promoting the website and related events on social media outlets as well as writing a blog and monthly newsletter.

Artists' works are featured on the website Gallery. At the Shed Shop, customers can purchase these photographs and original artwork that has been printed onto a thin, elegant aluminium substrate in 4 different sizes. Custom sizes are also available for special order.

In addition, the Shed facilitates the commissioning process for each of its artists. Products are printed in England and shipped worldwide.

The Shed is involved in two events this Autumn including the Lyme Regis ArtsFest from September 17 to 25th, and a group show on October 6th at Milk Gallery in Barcelona, Spain. They will be promoting events and recruiting new members at all of these events, as well as online via our website and blog

Small is beautiful

SHOPS from across the South West have helped a University of Exeter research team uncover the creativity and community spirit at the heart of the region's small-scale repair industries.

Following a publicity campaign in autumn 2010, businesses ranging from cobblers to tailors to sewing machine repair shops put themselves forward to be interviewed by the researchers and have their workshops recorded by photographer Steven Bond.

The beautiful and evocative photographs taken for the project will be on display in the foyer and café galleries at Bridport Arts Centre, from September 24th to October 15th

There is a preview on Friday, September 23rd at 6pm, to which all are welcome, where there will be a discussion about the value of these small independent businesses to our communities, with the project team and some of the shop-keepers involved.

Dr Caitlin DeSilvey, a geographer based at the University of Exeter's Cornwall Campus, said: "The business of 'making and mending' is seen by many as a dying art, but our research shows a wealth of expertise and ingenuity in the South West. We've been pleased by the positive response from shops and their customers, and are very grateful to everyone who has helped so far.

"We've also been touched by the pride people take in this work and the valued role these businesses have in their communities. People entrust these shops with their most treasured possessions, from a favourite pair of slippers to a valuable family heirloom, and workers often put in extra time and care to help mend a special object."

The project will run until summer 2012 and the research team is still looking for shops to get involved. At this stage, the team is particularly keen to include businesses that repair cameras, radios, furniture and small electrical appliances. Anyone who wants to nominate a place of work or business in their local community can contact Dr DeSilvey on 01326 254161 or email her at c.o.desilvey@exeter.ac.uk

At the end of the project the images will become part of the South West Image Bank (SWIB) based in Plymouth, which is a partner in the study. The research project is funded by the Arts and Humanities Research Council (AHRC).

People can also find out more about the project at www.smallisbeautiful project blogspot com

BOOKING is open for Parachute Art and Play sessions at Bridport Arts Centre. The sessions are led by Angi Porter for children under 5 years old and the first session is free.

Learning Coordinator Kate Wilson said "We're very enthusiastic about these sessions, they give younger children an opportunity to develop imagination in a fun environment."

The sessions take place weekly on Tuesdays from September 13th – December 13th 10.30am-12.30pm. There are 15 places available and booking is essential. Drop in to Bridport Arts Centre or call 01308 424204 for more information.

Poetry for Pleasure

Between the optimist and the pessimist, The difference is droll: The optimist sees the doughnut; The pessimist the hole.

Anon

THE monthly magazine Literary Review enables keen readers to see reviews of novels and non-fiction before spending good money on the books themselves. Also each month they have a poetry competition in which entries must rhyme, scan and be no longer than 24 lines. The subject is chosen each month by the editor. Recently the topic was 'clairvoyance', and the winning entry was this bit of fun from Sheila Sims, who was clearly inspired by Stanley Holloway's famous monologue.

THE GIPSY'S WARNING

There's a famous seaside place called Blackpool Where it's cheap to get breakfast and bed, And Mr and Mrs Ramsbottom Went there on the day they were wed.

A grand little place was the lodgings With notices pinned on the wall. 'No sand in the bedrooms,' 'No callers' And 'Please leave your boots in the hall.'

They didn't think much of the ocean, Though they did have a paddle, it's true. Then strolled down the mile known as 'Golden' To find something else they could do. What they found was a gipsy called Enid, A Romany lady, she said, And Mrs Ramsbottom decided, For a chuckle, to have her palm read.

She emerged from the tent looking pallid. 'She told me that we'll have a son Called Albert, who's ate by a lion.' He said, 'Can't you see you've been done?'

In Lancashire? Lions? he bellowed, 'The woman must be round the bend!' So Albert was born nine months later And we know what occurred in the end!

Another lady who writes with her tongue in her cheek is the wonderful Wendy Cope. This poem from her 'Serious Concerns' collection, first published in 1992. I wonder what William Barnes and Thomas Hardy would have made of it.

PASTORAL

I wish I was a provincial poet, Writing a lot about nature, Whenever I thought about London poets, I'd mutter darkly, 'I hate yer.'

And off I'd stomp down the wild, wild lanes In my jeans and my wellington boots. A provincial poet doesn't need lipstick Or tights or respectable suits –

The clutter of urban life. How wonderful Just to discard it all And spend one's time communing with everything, Perched on a dry-stone wall.

by Frank McGarry

And after a busy day communing To amble back home for a bite, Then go to the pub with some real people, Who manage twelve pints in a night,

Which helps them get through the provincial evenings Without too much boredom or pain, Real people, as solid and ruddy and calm As a London bus in the rain!

Some day I'll go and live in the country And many a notebook I'll fill With keen observation of animals (mostly The dead ones because they keep still).

Dead sheep and squashed rabbits. Oh, how I shall love it.

My face will be peaceful and brown And shining with love for all of creation, Excepting those poets in town.

It was Wendy Cope who said, "I used to think all poets were Byronic – mad, bad and dangerous to know. And then I met a few. They're mostly wicked as ginless tonic and wild as pension plans."

Local comedians to join circuit pros at first Bridport Arts Centre Comedy Café

COMEDY professionals and emerging new acts will be joined by local comedians at the first Bridport Arts Centre Comedy Café night.

Bridport's own Gary Ball will perform one-liners as his alter ego "Barry Barking" and fellow local resident Paul Siebenthal will be sharing his tales of life in the countryside, fresh from completing London's renowned Amused Moose stand up course.

Joining them on the night will be 14-year-old Beaminster schoolboy Rex Fisher, who gives his own unique take on teenage life

Experienced new acts, Sherborne's Jason Manly and Bournemouth's Mike Bilham, will complete the line up supporting the evening's headliner, high octane musical comedian Ashley Frieze. Fresh from the Edinburgh Comedy Festival Ashley will be sharing songs from his solo show, The Seven Deadly Sings.

Guiding the audience through the night's entertainment will be resident compere and another Bridport resident, Tom Glover.

Tom has performed more than 40 gigs around the UK, since starting out last October, and was a winner at the Swanage Comedy Festival open mic competition earlier this year.

THE MAD HATTER'S TEA DANCE Fundraising events begin for Lyric Theatre

THE Lyric Theatre is kick-starting its season of fundraising events - and joining in with the hat festival fun - with The Mad Hatter's Tea Dance on Sunday, September 18th from 2pm to 4pm. Mad hats, foxtrots, tea and cake galore: the old dancing school is going to welcome dancers new and experienced, young and old for this lovely Sunday afternoon dance. NOT having Broadband or a computer at home is no longer a problem thanks to local company, "Very Basic computer training"

In addition to their training, they are now offering mobile computing, providing an on the spot web- search and print service.

Business owner, Rachel Brown, from Beaminster says "Not everyone wants to own a computer or can afford to pay the extra bill for Broadband. However, to access pretty much anything these days you need to visit a website whether it's for a recipe or booking a cheap holiday, online applications or job searches."

Rachel goes on to say "we take our laptops and printers to people's homes and browse on their behalf then print the information on the spot. We have mobile broadband so can surf the internet for our customers without additional costs.

One of Rachel's customers, who use this service, said "One of the main benefits of the service Rachel and her team provide is the flexibility on which they work. As they come to us it can fit in when it suits me. I have booked a holiday and completed an online application with Rachel's help."

For more information about using the mobile computer services or to book training on your own computer call Rachel on 07779 593351 or 01308 861085

I've heard it's 'Notting Hill by The Sea'

Tom Glover talks to top comedian Jo Caulfield ahead of her first visit to Bridport

Your show is a "Tour Of Towns I've Heard Of But Never Been To", what have you heard about Bridport?

To be honest - I know very little about Bridport. I've seen it on Location, Location, Location. I know P.J.Harvev was born there. And several people from Bridport who follow me on Twitter have told me its nicknamed Notting Hill by The Sea. So I'm expecting to see a lot of hippy-ish looking men on the beach, flying kites while talking very LOUDLY on Blackberrys.

What can people expect to see from your show?

One review called the show a "celebration of anger". I

This is a show I'm really proud of, there's a lot in it: my thoughts on relationships, dating, sex, my husband, my Irish mother, advice on how to deal with irritating peo-ple, bad service, international terrorism, celebrity perfumes, reality TV, kids bedtime stories.

And I don't mind showing what an idiot I can be. I've always done something stupid that I can share with the audience. I've got a ridiculous story of going to dinner with two complete strangers because I mistakenly thought I knew them. To add insult to injury I paid for There's even a game and a special audience interaction piece at the end.

Why did you decide to take up comedy in your 30s? I fell into it!

I went to see a friend do a 5 minute openspot at the Comedy Store, and even though he died on his arse I was hooked. The next day I went through Time Out Magazine, where all the comedy club were listed, and booked myself into a couple of open spots.

I had no idea how to write jokes. I just scribbled down half a dozen things I'd said that made friends laugh.

My first gig was a New Act competition at The Comedy Cafe, Old St, London. Before the show I was so nervous I ended up getting drunk. I have no idea what I said onstage. I don't even remember being on stage. But I won the competition.

That makes me sound like I'm a natural. I wasn't. I was dreadful - but I must have been slightly less dreadful than everyone else on the bill that night.

To be honest I knew so little about comedy I was under the delusion I was quite good, so I kept going. The truth is I wasn't even good enough to know how bad I was.

That's what happens in the beginning. At first your excitement and enthusiasm can win over an audience. It's like any job; they let you off for a while because you're new but eventually they get pissed off that you still don't know what you're doing. A couple of months later another standup advised me that regular compering was one of the best ways to improve as a comic, so I saved my waitressing tips', bought a cheap microphone & a small amplifier and opened my own comedy club in the basemént of a bar in North London.

Do you wish you had entered the industry earlier?

Comedians need 'life experience' before they can stand on stage and give their views. I'm not interested in 'little boy' comedians or their jokes about playing with an X- I read that you gave yourself a two-year deadline to make a success of comedy, when did you realise it was something you could really make a go of?

When the phone started ringing. I used to spend a couple of hours every day ringing round comedy clubs trying to get some work. Then one day there was a reversal and the clubs started phoning me.

I remember getting booked for a show in Sheffield. I kept thinking, "What? You're paying ME to go all the way to Sheffield? Why would you do that? Are you mental?"

Do you think its tougher trying to make it as a female comic

When new female comics ask me that question I always say: Just work on being as funny and original as you can. Don't think about the female thingvou're a woman, that's not going to change.

And try not to dress too provocatively, it distracts from the comedy.

Do you have any stories from

On tour I set myself a challenge to try and write material specific to the town I'm in. I like exploring the town and pointing out to the locals things I've no ticed about their High Street. It's great when I can talk about a pub or a shop and the whole audience knows it intimately. I did a show in Ipswich last year and told a true story about the bad service I'd received that afternoon in a local cafe. It turned out the man who owned the cafe was sitting in the audience and the grumpy waitress, who I'd slagged off, turned out to be his daughter! Luckily he agreed with me that she was a terrible waitress.

You're a regular TV and radio show panelist, what are your favourite shows to work on?

'Have I Got News For You" on TV, because Ian Hislop and Paul Merton are really nice people, and "Hot Gossip" on the radio because Claudia Winkleman is brilliant com-

What's your opinion on the exposure comedy is getting in the mainstream at the moment

Love it! Every time I appear on Michael McIntyre's Comedy Roadshow or Mock The Week I get more people coming to see my LIVE shows.

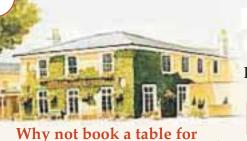

The only thing I would change is I'd let the comedians do what they do onstage. There's a lot of shows where the producer will say, "Can you drop that routine? And change that word. And don't say anything that will offend anyone" - I just think, Well why did you book me?

What advice would you give to aspiring comics?

Respect the Art of Stand-Up Comedy. Study comedy. Study the construction of jokes. No matter how much you respect your favorite comedian do NOT copy their mannerisms or speech patterns. Be yourself. Read my website: "Things I've Learned As A Comedian" - I post tips and answer emails about Stand-Up Comedy.

QR Codes are coming to a 'For Sale' board near you!

IS IT REALLY THE FUTURE?

and mobile internet Ac-GORDON and Rumsby are about to launch QR code technology on For Sale Boards and in newspaper advertising as we feel this is an important technological advance in the industry that cannot be ignored. We will be the first estate agent in the Lyme Bay area to use it. With the majority of home buyers beginning their search on the internet these days, we have already adapted our website to work with smart phones and this is the next step. We

The last few years has seen a dramatic increase in the use of both smartphones

BY MORPHSITES AND GORDON & RUMSBY

cording to Ofcom and the Office for National Statistics nearly 1 in 3 adults now own a smartphone and 45% of us now use the web while we're out and about. That trend is expected to increase - by 2014 it is predicted more of us will access internet based services on our phones and other mobile devices than on our PCs at

That isn't really surprising when you consider that the increase in such technologies as QR codes and mobile websites provide users with access to the exact content they are interested in almost instantly, providing a every individual with a tailored experience.

Seeing a "For Sale" sign outside a property you like the look of and being able to instantly access all the key details for that the property is a great example of this tailored experience and brings sellers and buyers together much more effectively.

The use of OR codes in Japan and the US is ubiquitous across many industries, and we expect the same thing to happen in the UK over the next 12 months. The possibilities in the use of OR codes are endless, and offer all businesses and organisations the opportunity to develop innovative ways to use them in order to reach their target audiences more effectively

Pete Fairburn morphsites, who are providing the QR code system, said: "We are delighted to be working with Gordon & Rumsby in rolling out this exciting technology in the area and believe it will lead to bringing sellers and buyers together much more effectively.

What is a "QR Code"?

A QR or Quick Response, code is a type of barcode design to be read by a smartphone at high speed. Different information can be encoded into the code, including web addresses, text A typical use would be a link in the code to a mobile website, allowing a user to access information or special offers comfortably on a ever they are.

Most smartphones will need to have a free app downloaded in order to read these codes presently. It is expected the next generation of smartphones will include QR code reading as

How do I scan one?

Once you have a QR code app downloaded, simply start the app and point it at a QR code - the phone should do the rest!

Even more mugen power for Honda Civic type R

ONE of the most exclusive and explosive hot hatches of recent years has been given an extra dose of MUGEN power.

The Honda Civic Type R MUGEN debuted in 2010 to near-universal acclaim, and a 20-strong limited edition production run of the hand-built, motorsport-derived machines went on sale to UK enthusiasts.

Now technicians at Northampton-based MUGEN Euro have worked their magic again, producing a unique version with even more power and torque.

The cylinder bore and stroke have been increased to create an overall capacity of 2,156cc, so the car has been christened the Honda Civic Type R MUGEN 2.2.

The result of the change is a boost in engine output from 240 to 260PS, and additional torque is available throughout the rev range. Peak torque is now 240Nm at 6,000rpm. Compared to a standard Honda Civic Type R, both 30 per cent.

When coupled to the host of motorsport-derived components created exclusively by including MUGEN sports suspension, uprated brakes and a stunperformance bodykit – the MUGEN 2.2 represents the ultimate expression of the Honda Civic Type R philosophy.

It has been created as a fitting tribute to the highly successful Honda K20 2.0-litre petrol engine, which has ceased production in Japan. Homologated by MUGEN as an FIA Group N race series engine, the K20 has long been the powerplant of choice with tuners and motorsports competitors who want the very best in naturally aspirated performance.

Moreover, it has been at the very heart of everything MUGEN Euro has achieved since the company was formed in 2006. its skilled engineers have built or tuned almost 400 examples for race and power and torque are up rally competitors around the world.

The Honda K20 engine has also powered the only two complete road cars produced by MUGEN; the Honda Civic MUGEN RR four-door saloon sold in Japan, plus the limited Honda Civic Type R MUGEN sold in the UK.

Hiro Toyoda, vice-president of MUGEN Euro, commented: "Environmental pressures mean naturally aspirated engines are rapidly being superseded by other engine architectures and technologies. We may never see the like of the K20 in a mainstream production car again, so felt it only fitting we mark the occasion with this special 2.2 version of the Honda Civic Type R". Plans for the 2.2 car Of the 20 limited edition 2.0-litre cars launched in 2010, four remain unsold and it's possible MUGEN Euro may offer them with the reworked engine. Existing owners could also be invited to return their cars for an upgrade. A decision on these two proposals is expected to be made shortly.

Ford Mondeo named greenest family car by What Car?

THE most fuel efficient Ford Mondeo was declared the UK's greenest family car at this year's What Car? Green Awards.

Already winner of two trophies at the magazine's overall awards in January, the Ford Mondeo range's 65.6mpg 1.6-litre TDCi (turbo diesel) model sealed the green recognition from What Car?

What Car? editor in chief Chas Hallett said: "Ford has done great things to the Mondeo. The award-winning 1.6 TDCi is the best green family car, being both a brilliant all-rounder and remarkably eco-friendly with its low CO2 rating of 114a/km.

"The judging team praised its supple and controlled ride, lively chassis and perfectly weighted steering."

In January, within months of going on sale, the new Ford Mondeo was voted by What Car? as best overall family and estate car. Now its frugal fuel economy, while continuing to offer a rewarding drive, has also been rewarded with a What Car? Green Award.

Mark Ovenden, Ford Britain managing director, said: "Thanks to impressive fuel economy, Ford has an outstanding low-carbon vehicle line-up which comdesign bines stvle. technology and affordability. This Ford Mondeo's UKbuilt 1.6 diesel engine is an extraordinary combination of performance and low CO2 and is available across the range from Fiesta to Galaxy."

In the Ford Mondeo it produces only 114g CO2/km while returning 65.6mpg meaning zero road tax in the first year and £30 annually from then. Sales of both the fuel-sipping 1.6-litre diesel and 1.6-litre petrol EcoBoost are rising since being introduced this year on all Ford large cars - Mondeo, S-MAX and Galaxy with Auto-Start-Stop as standard.

The Ford Mondeo 1.6 TDCi is priced from £19,895 with Bluetooth, cruise control and Easy Fuel, to premisfuelling, standard.

Even more mugen power for Honda Civic type R

ONE of the most exclusive and explosive hot hatches of recent years has been given an extra dose of MUGEN power.

The Honda Civic Type R MUGEN debuted in 2010 to near-universal acclaim, and a 20-strong limited edition production run of the hand-built, motorsport -derived machines went on sale to UK enthusiasts.

Now technicians at Northampton-based MUGEN Euro have worked their magic producing a again, unique version with even more power and torque.

The cylinder bore and stroke have been increased to create an overall capacity of 2,156cc, so the car has been christened the Honda Civic Type R MUGEN 2.2.

The result of the change is a boost in engine output from 240 to 260PS, and additional torque is available throughout the rev range. Peak torque is now 240Nm at 6,000rpm. Compared to a standard Honda Civic Type R, both power and torque are up rally competitors around 30 per cent.

When coupled to the host of motorsport-derived components created exclusively by MUGEN - including sports suspension, uprated brakes and a stunperformance bodykit – the MUGEN 2.2 represents the ultimate expression of the Honda Civic Type R philosophy.

It has been created as a fitting tribute to the highly successful Honda K20 2.0-litre petrol engine, which has ceased production in Japan. Homologated by MUGEN as an FIA Group N race series engine, the K20 has long been the powerplant of choice with tuners and motorsports competitors who want the very best in naturally aspirated performance.

Moreover, it has been at the very heart of everything MUGEN Euro has achieved since the company was formed in 2006. Its skilled engineers have built or tuned almost 400 examples for race and the world.

The Honda K20 engine has also powered the only two complete road produced MUGEN; the Honda Civic MUGEN RR four-door saloon sold in Japan, plus the limited Honda Civic Type R MUGEN sold in have yet to be finalised. Of the 20 limited edition 2.0-litre cars launched in 2010, four remain unsold and it's possible MUGEN Euro may offer them with the reworked engine. Existing owners could also be invited to return their cars for an upgrade. A decision on these two proposals is expected to be made shortly.

DOUBLE: Cameron Murless scored twice in Pymore's biggest home league win for four years.

PERRY STREET LEAGUE

WITH HOWARD LARCOMBE

LATE STRIKE SAVES SEASIDERS

Beaminster held by Crewkerne Town

FARWAY UNITED 2 LYME REGIS 3 LYME Regis survived a second-half fight-back by the plucky Devonians to get their Premier Division title challenge off to a winning start at Eastlee

The Seasiders flew out of the blocks and were ahead within a minute when mark Bailey took advantage of some hesitant defending to clip a delicate chip over the stranded Phil Woodley in the Farway goal.

Woodley was in action again in the 20th minute with a point blank save to deny Joe Bond.

Seconds later Lyme thought they had doubled their lead when Matt Williams clumsily scuffed Bond's cross towards his own goal. The ball appeared to be over the line but Farway linesman Steve Loud disagreed and it remained 1-0.

On the half-hour Lyme skipper Adam Caddy had a goal-bound header nodded off the line by towering centreback Dave Summers but the second goal was only moments away.

Substitute Joel Gostling, on for the injured Ben Whittington, burst down the right flank and speared in a cross that the hapless Williams succeeded this time in diverting into his own net.

It was almost 3-0 on the stroke of half-time but Gostling's chip rebounded off the crossbar to the relief of Woodley.

The one-way traffic continued after the restart with Julien Simier this time denied by the post.

At this stage the Seasiders visibly stepped off the gas and this almost proved fatal as the hosts sniffed an op-

On the hour mark new signing Stuart Broom made space down the left flank and crossed for young striker Dylan Gair to skillfully guide the ball past Ashley Caddy in the Seasiders goal.

Simier missed a golden one-on-one opportunity the restore the two-goal cushion when Woodley saved well.

Six minutes from time Farway were level. The Lyme back line, which as a unit, had a poor second period, gave Gair far too much space and the youngster superbly clipped a half-volley over Caddy from 20 yards.

But thoughts of hands being rubbed in South Petherton and Beaminster when Gostling side-footed into an empty net following good work from Adam Caddy and the persistent Bailey.

BEAMINSTER 1 CREWKERNE TOWN 1

MAN-of-the Match Andy Mapstone gave Beaminster the lead against Crewkerne at the Memorial Ground.

But the newly promoted Tigers were level five minutes later and the points were shared.

Beaminster manager Sean Annetts was impressed by the newly promoted visitors, he said: "They've got a couple and lively players upfront who caused us some problems. The draw was a fair result – neither side did enough to win

COMBE RES 2 ILMINSTER RES 2

GOALS from Adam Male (pen) and Bradley Miles earned Ilminster Reserves a point at Slades Cross. Simon Vincent scored twice for the Saints.

MERRIOTT ROVERS 2 W & M CHINNOCK 1

ROVERS' promising start to the new campaign continued with early second-half strikes from Pete Symes and Carl Falcon.

Damian Hart scored the Chinnocks' late consolation from the penalty spot.

WINSHAM UTD 3 PERRY STREET 1

THE early signs are that Winsham United appeared destined for a top half finish. Goals from Tom Symes (2) and Sam Symes secured a victory against Perry Street at Bakers Field. Street's Danny Wiseman headed home to reduce the arrears to 2-1.

DIVISION ONE

LYME REGIS RES 3 PERRY STREET RES1

LYME Regis Reserves made a winning start to the season as the club made their bow at the Woodroffe School Street took an early lead from the penalty spot after a clumsy foul from defender Paul Miners.

But the Seasiders were level midway through the first half through Harvey Brimicombe and took the lead soon after through Jack Durrant after good work from Danny Thirlwell.

The win was secured late-on when debutant Orrin Newbury tapped in.

GOALS either side of the interval from Neil Hawkins and Johnny Jackson saw Beaminster Reserves return home empty-handed from their short trip to Unity Lane.

NETHERRURY 2 FORTON RANGERS 6

THE Ambers had a day to forget as they were hammered by depleted Forton Rangers and saw two additions to their growing injury list.

"We were never in it" said Netherbury boss Andy Louden.

Carl Grinter (2), Andy Stevenson (2), Dave Hurley and Craig Salter scored for the visitors who started the game with An own goal and a late strike from Ben Brook, who pulled up with a thigh injury soon after, made up the Ambers consolations. Lee Quincey was also forced off with a thigh strain.

DIVISION TWO

CHARMOUTH 1 SOUTH PETHERTON RES 3

NEW look Charmouth's return to life in Division Two began with a disappointing 3-1 defeat against South Petherton. Youngster Matt Pile pounced on a defensive error to give the Robins' a first minute lead.

Pymore 6 Crewkerne Rangers 2

PYMORE racked up their highest league score at their St Mary's home in almost four years (Hinton, 10-1).

Brandon Scadding nodded home the opener but Rangers leveled before the interval following an error from standin 'keeper Chris Good.

James Pitcher restored the hosts lead only for the visitors to square things up once again on the hour.

But from there on in it was all Pymore. Cameron Murless lobbed home number three and the goals began to flow.

Substitute Darren Poole made the points safe before Murless and Poole, again, made up the half-dozen.

THORNCOMBE 4 UPLYME 3

AFTER a good start Uplyme ultimately fell under the weight of the goalscoring exploits of Stuart Packer - one of the league's most prolific current play-

The Swallows took the lead in the 20th minute when Gavin Fowler crossed for Dan Prendeville to score via an upright. That's how it stayed until the stroke of half-time when Packer leveled after good work from John Allen himself put the Thorns ahead soon after the resrart following a goalmouth scramble.

Packer added a third on the hour when he headed home a John Mason cross.

Coombe rang the changes and reverted his side to a 4-3-3 formation. The ploy soon paid dividends when Adam Neale reduced the deficit to 3-

But the game turned on a 64th minute disputed back pass which resulted in a close range free-kick being rolled back to Packer who smashed it high into the roof of the net, Uplyme manager Rob Coombe felt referee Mark Macey made the wrong call "It was a poor decision, it couldn't possibly have been a backpass" said Coombe.

Uplyme took control in the closing stages but could only rustle up a solitary goal from another of league's top-scorers Gavin Fowler.

Afterwards Coombe felt the presence of injured centre-back Stuart King may have nullified the threat posed by Packer.

DIVISION THREE

DRIMPTON 2 WAYTOWN HOUNDS 2

WITH 11 players unavailable through holiday, injury, work and suspension Waytown Hounds were still putting a side together at 12.15 on Saturday and took the bare 11 to Drimpton, including 54-year-old

The Hounds seem to have a habit of conceding freak goals and this week's was a loose ball hammered out of the six-yard box by Leigh Hansford that cannoned back off Drimpton's Adam Tanner and into the bottom corner!

 $Midway\,through\,the\,first\,\hbox{-half\,Tom}$ Menaldino made it 1-1 after being picked out by Ed Stephenson.

Playing up the slope in the secondhalf the Hounds should have gone ahead when Menaldino weaved his way into the box and squared the ball to Mark Hughes who missed the chance to put the Hounds ahead.

Menaldino then got his second of the match racing on to a through ball and neatly finishing in the bottom corner. As the Hounds pushed to try and

CRUCIAL: Joel Gostling scored a late

winner for Lyme Regis after Farway kill the game off they had two goals disallowed. The first was when Gary Allen burst through the back four and rounded the keeper but had allegedly used his arm in the build up, which was close call and then Menaldino was flagged offside after rounding his marker.

Drimpton had a goal disallowed for offside before levelling with a well taken goal from Callum Preston eight minutes from time.

DIVISION FOUR FARWAY RES 3 LYME BANTAMS 2

PETE Peacock marked his Seasiders debut with the opening goal at Eastlee Park on Saturday. The striker pounced on a goalkeeping error and tapped home

Stephen Craft equalised before the break only for Rhys Paterson to put Lyme back in front after the restart.

But the villagers battled back with goals from player-manager Greg Mc-Collum and Darren Cooke to snatch the points.

Top performers for Lyme were defenders Rob Greenwood and Matt Thomas.

UPLYME RES 4 HAWKCHURCH RES 4

GOALS from Jamie Jones (2), Ollie Borgeat and Brett James, his first senior goal from the club, earned Uplyme a point after a thrilling 4-4 draw with Devonian neighbours Hawkchurch United.

New Joint manager Kieran Borgeat picked out Callum Taylor, Jones and Borgeat as his top performers.

LYME REGIS BOWLS ROUND-UP

Mens team to remain in Division One

IN a busy week for the club, there were no less than four friendlies this late into the seas on. Unfortunately, Lyme only came out on top on one of these occasions but were more successful in the only league game of the

The men's 'A' team managed a good win over Bridport 'A' by some 10 shots assuring them of a place in Division One next season.

The ladies, with only one game left, need to score a minimum of five points when they meet Dorchester in the last game of the sea son to secure their place in the top flight next

At this juncture, I must apologise to Angela Rattenbury and Nola Stephens to whom I attributed the wrong trophies in last week's write up. Angela won the Ladies Handicap title whilst Nola lifted the two-wood title in their walkover games against Clare Barber.

Thirteen players turned up to do battle and it was Dave Wood who managed to cruise pasy Brian Gillett in the final. Dave assures me he contested more than 100 ends to get his hands on the trophy!

LYME REGIS GOLF with Steve Prendeville Presidents Prize Medal Competition

IN bright, sunny conditions, but with a strong wind blowing which even affected putting on certain greens, a full field as-sembled to contest the Presidents Prize medal competition.

With fairways giving good run and greens fast and true only the increasing wind had an adverse affect on the flight of the ball. This was reflected most noticeably on the short par threes where only 6 "twos" were recorded

However, the scorers, in the main did not reflect the difficult conditions as some excellent scores were recorded. In particular the regular pairing of Roger Seed (0) and Adrian Morgan recorded exceptional gross scores of 69 and 73 respectively. Whilst both achieved a 69 net, it was new club member Geoff Pontefract (10) who carded the best net of the day with an impressive 66.

In second place was Tim Daniel (11) with an equally impressive net 68 narrowly beating Mike Ebdon into third place on countback. Fourth was Danny Hopkins (14) with

Ollie's 41 earns Talbot Trophy

LAST Tuesday a field of 21 golfers of mixed abilities took to the tee at Lyme Regis Golf Club in very testing conditions with gusting winds and patches of heavy rain for the Talbot Arms Annual Golf Day writes Rob Coombe.

However spirits weren't dampened with the overall winner Ollie Borgeat, scoring a superb 41 points off a handicap of 12.

Everyone had a great day and in excess of £100 was raised for the Talbot charity, MENCAP. Special thanks goes to Dave Jones for the hard work he put in to organise the event.

UNDER 8

BRIDPORT started confidently and played some nice football at times. The midfield of Finley Cauldwell, Mannie Wellman, Harry Cortice and Oliver Hansford-Harvey all linked well together in the midfield creating several good chances with Tom Kilcoyne always a threat up front.

Bridport kept good shape throught out the game with Dillon O'Brien and Toby Pattemore marshalling the defence.

No result can be published as the children play in a non-competitive league.

BRIDPORT U10 6 WEYMOUTH TERRAS 1

THIS was a good game played in lovely conditions at Broadwindsor.

Bridport played with a new formation with three at the back to allow the fullbacks to use the wings to create space and opportunities.

Oscar and Cole played in the central role and did very well. The first-half was hard because we had a lot of possession and created a lot of opportunities, Bridport did get the all important goal just before half-time a well worked goal finished by Morgan.

In the second-half the goals started to flow. Finlays movement and twists and turns in the penalty box created all sorts of problems and he deservedly got a goal. Morgan's keen eye for goal was rewarded with four goals.

BROADSTONE FC 2 BRIDPORT U14 5

BRIDPORT were made to kick up the sloping pitch in the first-half which Broadstone exploited as they took the lead in the first five minutes after some sloppy Bridport defending.

The hosts were awarded a free-kick about 25 yards out it was curled home for the second goal and Bridport looked rattled. Edward Butchart was doing his best to keep the defence together with some great tackling and blocks.

From here on in though the visitors started to get hold of the game.

Jon Paul Avery was starting to have an influence with his direct running and he squeezed in a low cross that Owen Ward finished superbly to halve the defecit.

This had Bridport's tails up and the half chances started to appear. Avery blazed over when he should have scored, but would make up for the miss minutes later by scoring the equaliser.

Possibly it was a little contentious as one of the Broadstone players lay injured and although Manager Sayers was asking his players to put the ball out, they continued up the field.

The ref did not stop the action and the ball ended up with Freddy Woolner who supplied a great cross and Avery converted with a cheeky flick in the six yard

In the second-half Bridport used the slope to their advantage, and were pretty dominant for the second 35 minutes. Owen Ward scored the third goal with a neat header from a well delivered Sayers

Woolner then crossed an inch perfect ball that Sayers guided into the far corner

Rhys Hayter rounded off the scoring with a superb individual goal - a lovely right footed effort into the far top corner.

BRIDPORT COLTS 26 CHARD COLTS 7

BRIDPORT eased past a spirited Chard side, who, although a man short, competed right to the end of the match.

Bridport opened the scoring from the first set-piece of the game when they moved the ball quickly from a scrum in their opponent's half out to Eli Halkes-Wellstead on the wing who squeezed through in the corner.

Chard came back quickly, however, force ing a line-out close to the home line. Although it was a Bridport throw, the tapped back ball was fumbled several times and Chard were first to dive on the ball as it trickled over the goal line. The conversion was good and the visitors led by two points.

Bridport struck back with the last action of the first period when a Chard line-out was stolen and Jason the number 8 charged through. He just managed to get the ball away as he was tackled short of the line and Will Haggerty picked it up off his toes and dived over for the try, Luke King successfully converted.

In the final period Bridport scored twice in the final ten minutes. Firstly, some quick thinking by Haggerty who took a quick throw in to Mike Holden and although Chard did bring him down, he managed to feed the ball to Haggerty who had followed in support and still had some yards to make through a couple of tackles.

Finally Toby James was the last link in a move which demonstrated the youngsters handling at its very best as the ball was moved quickly across the pitch when Chard failed to deal with a Bridport kick and chase, sharp offloads led to James diving over with a defender hanging off him. Lester-Card converted both tries.

WEST DORSET RUGBY REPORTS

WITH KEITH JENKIN

Oaks cut down at windy Dorchester

TWO of the four local clubs had away fixtures on Saturday last, the first day of the Dorset Clubs' league season and a third, PUDDLETOWN, had no league fixture. Happily, DORCHESTER played at home and I trotted off there to have a look at their game against OAKMEDIANS.

DORCHESTER 280AKMEDIANS 3

ALTHOUGH conditions were good at Dorchester, there was a gusting cross-wind that threatened to cause the place kickers difficulty.

The visitors were given the kick-off and had the wind marginally at their backs in the first-half and, while Dorchester would have been encouraged when their eight shoved their opponents at the first set scrum, the first few minutes play took place almost entirely in home territory.

Oakmedians took the lead before the game was ten minutes old when their number ten kicked a penalty goal from in front after Dorchester had been penalised for holding on. The home side replied in kind however when, in what was really their first foray into their opponents' territory, they won a penalty and Bament bisected the posts from the tee.

A second Oakmedians penalty attempt went wide soon after, and then the home side took the lead with a try out wide by scrum half Biddle who completed a successful attack by his colleagues during which the ball had passed through several pairs of hands, and had been off-loaded adroitly on more than one occasion. Bament added the extras with a good kick from out wide, and Dorchester led 10-3.

More was to come before the break for, having now seemingly found the secret, the home side scored again in short order. They turned over ball in midfield, having harassed their opponents into error, before spreading the ball wide and flanker Joe Gower got over in the corner. The conversion kick dropped under the bar but Bament made ample amends for his miss when, just before the break, he judged the cross wind nicely and landed a penalty from some forty yards.

This score gave the home side a 18-3 lead at the break and, although they had not won the territorial battle in the first half, I felt they were good value for it. I felt that Dorchester, who now would have the breeze behind them, would stretch away in the second half, and confess to be a little disappointed that they did not.

The third quarter was a rather nondescript affair and the home effort was not helped by the fact that they lost both their number eight and one of their locks to the bin at different times for late tackles. These absentees forced them on to the defensive rather and, with Oakmedians not offering too much in attack, the scoreline remained the same. With ten minutes to go however, Dorchester stirred themselves, won a penalty on the opponents' ten yard line, and converted it through Bament who was having a good day with the boot.

Their opponents were getting a little petulant now, and were penalised several times for "rabbit". On the second occasion the home side took a quick tap and their number eight forward, Vivian, took advantage of some ineffectual tackling and got over close to the posts.

Bament duly converted to complete the scoring and to take his side to a pretty decisive win.

Dorchester will be satisfied with their start to the season, in spite of their tendency to meander through the third quarter.

BOURNEMOUTH 3rd 7 WEYMOUTH 29

ALTHOUGH they were slow to start, Weymouth would have ended the day well pleased with their initial league encounter.

Having lost the toss, they were invited to play with the wind in the first-half and it took them 20 minutes to come to terms with the conditions, the opposition and the game in general. Having done so, they gained control and went on to win comfortably.

Joel Wilson opened the scoring when, after some pressure by his colleagues, he broke and scored for Barter to convert. The seven point lead was increased to ten by a Baudouir penalty goal subsequently and before the half was through, centre Gibson broke through the home defence and put the speedy Quick away. Barter converted this one also, and Weymouth led 17-0 at the break.

Matters were not "done and dusted" at this stage however for the visitors now had to face the strong wind, and the home side duly imposed pressure early in the second period. The defence coped though, and finally Weymouth broke out and scored through Wilson after Gibson's break had put him clear. Baudouir added the extras and Weymouth were clear at 24-0 ahead.

The next 20 minutes belonged to the home side and play took place, for the most part, in the visitors' twenty two. Weymouth defended well enough however, although pressure finally told and a penalty try was conceded.

It was Weymouth who had the final word however and, after one of the home locks had been sent off for foul play, they went through the phases and Will Hughes made the result safe by getting over in the corner. The try remained unconverted.

Bournemouth could do no more and Weymouth held on with ease to record a handy win.

WEYMOUTH 2ND 19 PUDDLETOWN 10

WITH their league programmes yet to start, the clubs arranged a friendly that doubled as a trial game, with many changes being made throughout to both line ups.

Puddletown certainly had the better of the early exchanges and took the lead via the boot of Toby Musgrove after 15 minutes' play. The visitors continued to prosper for the remainder of the half and, just before the break, centre Aaron Fookes broke the home defensive line and touched down, for Musgrove to convert.

If the first period had seen Puddletown in the ascendancy, the second saw Weymouth assume control. They got a try back, an unconverted effort by Coburn and, in the final quarter, touchdowns by Tom Beech and David Oakesford, both converted by Nathan Allen, took them to the win, after a competitive encounter that hopefully will stand both sides in good stead for Saturday's league games.

ELLINGHAM & RINGWOOD 2ND 30 BRIDPORT 20

THE home side certainly started the stronger in this Dorset & Wilts Division One opener. They kicked a penalty almost immediately, and scored a converted try soon after, to lead 10-0 before the game was ten minutes old.

Bridport gathered themselves however and got a score back before the end of the first quarter, a unconverted try through winger Mike Pibworth. They crossed the home line again before the end of the half, through their blind side Matt Pown and, with the score again remaining unconverted, tied up the scores at 10-10 at the halfway stage.

The conceding of penalties proved to be Bridport's undoing however. Their opponents kicked three goals during the third quarter to lead 19-10 and, although Pibworth, now playing in the pack, scored his second touchdown of the afternoon, his side still trailed.

A fourth penalty put the home side a score clear before Bridport scored their fourth unconverted try of the afternoon but at 22-20, Ellingham & Ringwood remained ahead, and in the final minutes, they scored an unconverted try of their own and kicked their sixth penalty of the game to cement their win.

All this left the visitors just a little frustrated in view of the fact that they had outscored their opponents in tries but still could not force the win.

PREVIEW

DORCHESTER continue their league campaign on Saturday next when they visit CORSHAM, a side who, generally speaking, end the season very much in the top half of the division.

Having said that, they were soundly beaten by Wimborne in the only league game to be undertaken on September the third.

Dorchester have not enjoyed the best of fortune at this venue in recent times and will do have to be at their best if they are to win this one.

BRIDPORT have a home fixture against WESTBURY. The strength of these opponents is traditionally in their eight and, if the home side can achieve parity of possession, then they have a very really chance of ending the day with a comfortable win.

WEYMOUTH for their part, have a pretty tough ask when they visit SALISBURY 2nd, although their opponents found the going tough at Warminster last time out. This could be a close one.

PUDDLETOWN start their campaign with a trip to POOLE and will certainly have their hands full there.

As to the second sides, Bridport entertain South Wilts and it may well be that their opponents' long journey will contribute to a home win. Dorchester seconds are at home to Oakmedians thirds and will be hoping to emulate their first side's performance of a week ago, while Dorchester thirds will really not know what to expect at their Wimborne counterparts.

Newly promoted Weymouth seconds will travel to Oakmedians seconds "in fear and trembling" for their first game at the higher level. I do not think that Oakmedians are prospering overmuch as a club at the moment however, and they might just find the going easier than expected.

Weymouth thirds, now competing in the Dorset & Wilts league Division Four, have a blank date.

FIXTURES September 17th;

Bridport v Westbury (home); Bridport 2nd v South Wilts (home); Chard v Yatton (home); Chard 2nd v No Game; Chard 3rd v Wells 3rd (home); Crewkerne v Morganians (home); Dorchester v Corsham (away); Dorchester 2nd v Oakmedians 3rd (home); Dorchester 3rd v Wimborne 3rd (away); Honiton v Veor (home); Honiton 2nd v Totnes 2nd (away); Puddletown v- Poole (away); Sidmouth v Cullompton (home); Sidmouth 2nd v Cullompton 2nd (away); Sidmouth 3rd v South Molton 2nd (away); Sidmouth Colts v Cullompton (away); Weymouth v Salisbury 2nd (away); Weymouth 2nd v Oakmedians 2nd (away); Weymouth 3rd v no game.

Blues get benefit of British Lion's experience

BY STUART BROOM

BOTH management and younger players benefitted from the experience of former British Lion and England international Nigel Horton when he visited Bridport Rugby Club last week.

The former lock whose international career spanned three decades won 20 caps for his country culminating in a Grand Slam in 1980 where he partnered England captain Bill Beaumont in the second row. He also represented the Lions on three tours.

In retirement Nigel maintained his links with the game through coaching, player management and his role for a company that make rugby equipment such as the 'Predator' scrummaging machine

His visit to Bridport was to help develop the club coaches' education and personal development skills as well as working with the Under-17's and 18's squads, which included the

The sessions, which commence at 10.30am, will be overseen by fully qualified coaches. For further details ring BRFC Juniors' chairman Colin James on 01308 863701 or 07973 483978.

FOOTBALL ROUND-UP

WITH STUART BROOM

Superb Magpies hang on to clip Wings

DORCHESTER TOWN 3 WELLING UNITED 2 - ATT: 508

MANAGER Ashley Vickers wielded the axe in an attempt to kick start his team's season and it brought reward with the Magpies hanging on in the second-half to deal league leaders Welling United their first defeat of the season.

The Wings arrived at the Avenue Stadium undefeated, having won six of their opening seven games, whilst the Magpies languished near the bottom of the Blue Square South table with just two wins and six points from their six opening fixtures.

Vickers after keeping faith with most of his season's starting 11 in the hope of a recovery, finally lost patience with the side and made four changes from the team that went down to Sutton United the week before Simon Evans made way for debutant Alan Walker-Harris in goal, whilst Ryan Dovell and Jamie Gleeson were given starts in preference to Nick Crittenden and Ashley Nichols. Up front Rico Wilson led the attack in place of Ryan Moss.

In one of the best first-halves seen at the Avenue Stadium for a long time, the only downside was an injury to skipper Mark Jermyn that saw him stretchered off just before the interval with a potential medial ligament injury.

It was Jermyn who almost gave the Magpies the lead inside the first minute. Dovell robbed Wings captain Jack Parkinson after tracking him back to the edge of the Magpies penalty box before releasing Chris Flood down the right-hand side.

Flood switched the ball inside and Jermyn thundered in a shot from the angle of the penalty box that had Wings"keeper Dan Thomas, who was on loan at Dorchester last season, diving full-length to save.

Flood and Ben Dickenson were in irrepressible form down the flanks and when the latter went past Louis Fazakerley for the first time in many during the afternoon, his cross found Wilson who trapped the ball on his chest superbly before turning, but then shot tamely beyond the far post.

Welling despite coming to town with such a reputation were not in the game, and their defence was working overtime as crosses from Neil Martin and Dickenson were hacked clear.

The pressure finally told on 15 minutes when Fazakerley, who had such a poor game he probably wished he had stayed on the coach, tugged Wilson back inside the penalty area, and Flood sent Thomas the wrong way from the spot.

Dickenson went close four minutes later when his shot just cleared the angle of the goalframe after Wilson had chested Gleeson's cross into his path.

It wasn't until midway through the half that Welling worried the Magpies defence who had a lucky let off when Louis Cumbers fed the league's top-scorer Andy Pugh, but he got the ball stuck between his feet just yards from goal and Kyle Critchell cleared the danger.

Dorchester increased their lead on 33 minutes when Fazakerley tried to direct a diagonal crossfield pass from Flood back to Thomas, but he did not get enough power on his header and Dickenson raced to bravely beat Thomas to the ball and nod it over him and just inside the near post.

Walker-Harris who had started the game shakily by flapping at a cross, soon settled down, and after racing outside his area to powerfully head the ball clear, produced a fantastic double save just a minute after the goal. First he parried Lee Clarke's shot away from close range before recovering to push away Cumbers follow-up volley.

With every facet of the team working well, it was a blow when Jermyn was injured in a crunching tackle with Clarke that saw the midfielder carried off and replaced by Moss.

However the Magpies kept their shape to take a two goal half-time advantage, and started the second-half better than the first; Flood beating the offside trap within 14 seconds of the restart but firing woefully past the far post.

Two minutes later Flood cut the ball back from the byeline where Wilson shielded it allowing Moss to thunder a 20-yard shot goalwards that Thomas turned for a corner

The corner was cleared to Dickenson who dinked the ball into the goalmouth. Thomas jumping with Moss completely missed his punch and the striker headed the ball goalwards.

Although Anthony Acheampong got back he missed his clearance under pressure from Gary Bowles who volleyed it home on the line to give Dorchester a 3-0 lead.

The hosts were to cherish that goal as Welling with the wind, that got stronger as the game went on, behind them, finally started to get in the game.

Walker-Harris saved well at his near post from Loick Pires' angled drive almost immediately, before Clarke got in front of Nathan Walker to a cross, but his header just drifted over the bar with the keeper stranded. Pires then held off Martin before taking the ball on his chest and volleying over the top.

The pressure told and the Wings pulled a goal back when Bowles could only clear the ball to the edge of the box following a goalmouth melee and Parkinson drove a low shot beyond Walker-Harris into the corner of the net.

The pressure started to become relentless, but with every member of the Magpies fighting and chasing every ball they managed to keep Welling at bay.

Hopes were raised of a penalty when Gleeson was put in by Wilson in a rare excursion upfield, and he fell under pressure from Ben Martin, but the referee quite rightly waved play on.

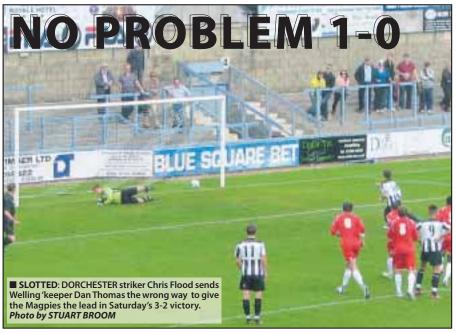

Nerves began to jangle four minutes from time when Welling grabbed a second. Jack Obersteler's corner was headed back at the far post by Martin and Clarke poked the ball home from close range.

There was one final chance for Dorchester in the five minutes added by the referee, but Crittenden's 30-yard free-kick just cleared the crossbar.

Bees rue missed chances

BRIDPORT 1 BRISTOL MANOR FARM 3 - ATT: 118

BRIDPORT produced a much improved performance from last week's FA Cup defeat at Horndean, but paid the penalty for missed chances when visitors Bristol Manor Farm hit them with two late goals.

Bridport survived an early scare when skipper Ryan Hayter under pressure had to clear over his own crossbar after just four minutes.

They went ahead against the run of play after 11 minutes when Matt Condliffe played a superb defence-splitting pass through the visiting defence after Dan Wise had made the space by taking a defender wide, allowing Tom Richardson to beat keeper Lee Ballard with a shot from 16 yards.

However Farm equalised four minutes later when Ricky Chandler cut in from the right before producing a superb left-foot curling shot over Sam Filkins, back after injury, into the top far corner of the net.

Sam Charles almost restored the Bees advantage midway through the half but his shot took a deflection and struck the post before bouncing clear as Bridport stepped up the pace.

Russell Legg couldn't quite get a touch on a cross from Condliffe as he ghosted in at the far post at full-stretch whilst a couple of goalmouth scrambles were hacked away by Farm defenders, but despite the fact Filkins had little to do, Bridport could not relax as the visitors always looked dangerous.

The Bees continued to hold the ascendency after the break and continued to dominate and created a number of chances, the best falling to Sam Charles who took advantage of a poor back pass. However his shot lacked venom and Ballard was able to parry his first and his follow up shots.

Then Richardson rose quickest to Wise's free-kick but could only direct his header straight at Ballard when either side would have brought a goal.

Bridport paid the price with 13 minutes left when Condliffe won the ball in a tackle near the touchline which unfortunately rebounded into the path of Kye Mountford. He took one step forward and steadied himself before unleashing a superb 30-yard thunderbolt that fizzed across goal and inside Filkins' left post despite the keeper getting a touch on it.

Three minutes later Farm sealed the game with a third when Dave Dunt whipped a left-wing cross into the box and Steve Fitzpatrick ghosted between two defenders to head home

MANAGER Steve Crabb felt his side were a little unlucky in not sharing the points in this Magna Dorset Premier League clash.

Sports have been one of the most consistent sides in the league for a number of years; finishing third in the last two seasons; and beat the Bees 5-0 the last time they met.

"They are a good side, and I think our efforts deserved a point. We competed well right to the end and could have snatched something at the end; we certainly gave them a game which is good."

The hosts took the lead just on the half-hour but Bridport equalised five minutes before the break with an excellent goal. Adam Steele's cross was headed on by Darren Lock and Jamie Morgan volleyed home for the edge of the box.

Sports upped their game after the interval and created more chances than the Bees, one of which brought the winner midway through the half.

Buckler gearing up for the new season

WHILST the new season technically starts at the beginning of May, and despite some national hunt racing during the summer months, the real cut and thrust does not really take place until the winter months.

Currently there is a two week lull in racing whilst horses, yards and particularly jockeys take a break and recharge their batteries ahead of six frantic months of ac-

As with most yards the summer months become the transfer window of racing and the Buckler yard are no different. TIGER BREEZE has gone to a new career to become a polo horse whilst Power Lord has retired.

CRANK HILL who won twice and was placed another seven times in his 25-race career has been sold by owners Strictly Come Racing to go point to pointing, but on the plus side the racing syndicate have purchased MALIN HEAD and SAINT PERAY to replace him, and they are settling down well in the yard.

Two horses that have been out injured are both making good recoveries and will reappear again this season.

DONTSAYATHING has not raced since breaking down after finishing second at Exeter in November 2009, but is back in the yard following recuperation at the owner's where he did six weeks road work before returning at the beginning of this month.

The seven-year-old who likes good ground is back in training and getting stronger.

ASHBOURNE FOLLY has the persistence and care of owners Heather Dunn and Mr

& Mrs Collier for his chance to race again.

The five-year-old pulled up at Chepstow in March with a broken cannon bone – not too long ago seen as a terminal injury, but following major surgery where he had his leg pinned, he was turned out yesterday (Tuesday) to resume his career.

Head lad Giles Scott said: "Everything looks fine and the scars have healed beautifully.

"He's a lucky lad, and let's hope he has some luck now and wins some races!"

He is expected to be fit to start racing early in the New Year.

There was not such good news however about stable jockey Nathan Sweeney who was recovering from a broken leg having been unseated aboard Ethiopia at Newton Abbot in early July.

Unfortunately his expected return at the end of this month has been delayed after he was involved in a car accident which displaced one of the pins holding the plate in position.

No new date has been given for his return at the moment.

Senior upbeat despite defeat: No need to panic

BRIDPORT manager Trevor Senior remained positive about his sides ability to compete in the Toolstation Western League Premier Division after they were consigned to their third defeat of the season at Bristol Manor Farm on Saturday.

Senior was disappointed after the Bees had exited the FA Cup last week at the hands of Horndean, but was convinced his side were good enough following promotion this season; something he relayed to his players and management béfore last Saturday's match.

"There's no panic. We knew this season was going to be hard, but you want to be testing yourself at the highest level you can.

We had a chat before the game and all looked at ourselves, me included, and everyone is much brighter and better for long periods against quite a mobile side. I don't want the season to spiral downwards based on results to date. We knew it was going to be hard, but in every match so far we have been in the game which is tough.

'There will be other days when we don't play well and end up winning, that's the way the season goes, but it was far more positive this week.

"Yes it was disappointing to lose, but the manner in which we lost was a lot more encouraging, but we have to take our chances. If you don't we are going to get punished at this level.

"In the last couple of games we have been punished for defensive mistakes, but there weren't any this week and I couldn't criticise any errors, they scored three good goals for me, but we have to take our chances when they come along; you've got to do that at this level."

Senior has however received a huge blow this week with the news that Darren Watts will not be able to play regularly in the future as he has recently been accepted as a full-time fireman with the Dorset Fire and Rescue Service based at Dorchester.

Senior said: "Darren has been training on a part-time basis, and recently applied for, and been accepted on a full-

"He has a family and this opportunity is reward for all his hard work and he deserves the chance.

He wasn't dropped, he's a quality player. He will still the page and the period of the country and the country and the odd game for the club if needed."
